What is it?

Fun-day Travels are recreational excursion trips designed by the ADRC staff to help combat social isolation, promote an independent lifestyle and add some fun to your life routines.

These trips are social in nature, usually to a destination for enrichment, entertainment and/or educational purposes.

Where do they go?

Trips are planned for a variety of locations including museums, local attractions or shopping centers, etc. We welcome ideas you have for destinations that appeal to you, your friends and neighbors. Some destinations may require a significant amount of walking and may not be suitable for everybody.

Where will I find the schedule?

Each issue of ADRC's AddLife Today! newsmagazine contains the upcoming schedule of planned trips.

What is the day like?

Passengers are picked up at a pre-arranged group location, usually between the hours of 8:30 am and 9:30 am. A lunch destination will be suggested but in most cases passengers may collectively choose the exact lunch location.

Passengers are then returned to their pick up location usually between the hours of 3:30 pm and 4:30 pm.

Who is eligible?

These trips are designed for adults age 60 years and older and adults with disabilities.

How much does it cost?

The fare is $5 per person, per trip, and is collected by the driver. Each passenger is responsible for purchasing their own lunch and any additional admission fees or purchases.

How do I reserve a space?

Reservations are taken at the ADRC office. You may make a reservation for yourself and one other person. Seats will be assigned based on a first call basis and phone calls will only be accepted on the dates stated in AddLife Today! When the trip fills up, we will create a wait list of five passengers.

All riders will be called with specific details 48 hours before the trip. Any openings will be filled by those on the wait list (those who agreed to a 48 hour advance notice when they signed up)

Note: When you call, you will be transferred to a voice mailbox. You must leave a message. Calls will be returned in the order received.

The transportation unit will determine the number of excursions passengers can sign up for in a given month.
