

Community Band

The Community Band Project was an effort to bring area musicians together (from various community bands) to perform for the public, encouraging community participation and support for the arts. This project invited instrumental musicians from the area to come together to perform in a large community band. It drew upon musicians throughout the area including Spring Green, Arena, Lone Rock, Muscoda, Mazomanie, Mt. Horeb, Barneveld, and many areas in between. Our directors were current and former band directors from Spring Green, Muscoda, and Lancaster. Tony Cavagnetto and Matt Snow, band directors in Spring Green largely coordinated the project. Current and former band musicians from throughout the area experienced the fun of being in a large concert and performing some excellent band music. It culminated in a free concert for the community.

Here is a link to our concert (which we've posted on our school's RVTV): <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=U2N4dADPhBc>
