Sauk County, Wisconsin

UW Extension 2015 Annual Report

Mission: We teach, learn, lead and serve, connecting the people with the University of Wisconsin, and engaging them in transforming lives and communities.

Departmental Program Summary:

1. Agriculture and Natural Resources

UW-Extension programs in Agriculture and Natural Resources help farmers compete in an increasingly challenging, volatile marketplace. Backed by University research, agriculture and natural resources educators balance farm profitability and production of high quality food with a continuing concern for the environment. Extension educators work with individual farmers and farmer networks, home and community gardeners, commercial horticulture and nursery businesses, and consumers of agricultural products in urban as well as rural areas.

2. Family Living Education

UW-Extension programs in Family Living help families thrive in a rapidly changing world. Backed by University research, Family Living Educators work with families to help them solve problems and improve their quality of life. This education meets family needs throughout the life span -- from improving prenatal nutrition and parenting skills to Powerful Tools for Caregivers. Programs target the unique needs of Sauk County partnering with community organizations and agencies to build strong families. The Wisconsin Nutrition Education Program (WNEP) provides education to food stamp eligible families and individuals.

3. 4-H & Youth Development Education

UW-Extension programs in 4-H and Youth Development give young people opportunities to learn new skills, gain self-confidence, and contribute to their communities. Backed by the knowledge and research of the University, 4-H and Youth Development educators, volunteers and youth design hands-on, research based educational experiences for youth and adults. Many of these programs involve youth-adult partnerships, where youth and adults work together in program development and facilitation. These programs are delivered directly through local adult volunteers in 4-H community clubs and by collaborating with other local organizations.

4. Community, Natural Resources and Economic Development (CNRED)

Extension's Community, Natural Resources and Economic Development programs help Wisconsin communities deal with challenges including resource constraints, downtown revitalization, community growth and planning issues, environmental protection, and quality of life issues. CNRED educators also provide strategic planning, community leadership and nonprofit development programs. The Sauk County community development priorities include:

- Economic development attracting and retaining Sauk County's workforce
- · Natural resources education including rural drinking water programs

- Build community leaders through the Sauk County Institute of Leadership (SCIL)
- · Organizational development including strategic planning
- Collaborate department-wide and through our UW Extension, Arts & Culture Committee to strengthen the offerings and economic impact of arts and culture in Sauk County.

5. Tourism and Promotions

The tourism and promotions program is responsible for the regular update, printing and distribution of the county's promotional map.

6. Home and Garden Services

Home and garden services are those consumer oriented services that are logically connected to the core mission of Extension education in the four key program areas. Examples of this work include: dispensing of water bottles for private well testing; soil samples for lawns and gardens; consultation on home, lawn and garden pests; food and nutrition and other family life needs; resource management concerns and more. Much time is spent identifying needs and problem solving with the general public. Specialists are frequently consulted to address citizen concerns.

Changes / Accomplishments:

Additional accomplishments for the various program areas are included in each program area's statistical summary listed below.

Statistical Summary:

Agriculture and Natural Resources

The Sauk County Agricultural Agent positon was vacant most of 2015.

Community, Natural Resources, Economic Development (CNRED)

Jenny Erickson, the Sauk County UWEX Community Resource Development Agent, focused on economic and organizational development in 2015. Erickson developed, coordinated, and/or taught educational programs designed to strengthen communities. Erickson also played a lead role in the public participation component of the Great Sauk Trail planning process.

Erickson developed, coordinated and/or taught educational programs designed to build the capacity of local organizations and communities. Erickson and McArthur continued to serve as the advisor for the Sauk County Institute of Leadership (SCIL). She also facilitated strategic planning processes for the Sauk County Development Corporation and the Friends of the Campus, Inc.

4-H Program

Sauk County 4-H Community Club Program

The 4-H Agent, Meg Sage and Program Advisor, Judy Gurgel, worked hard in 2015 to continue to rebuild the foundation of the Community Club 4-H program in Sauk County. The Community 4-H Clubs offer long-term educational experiences in which 4-H members learn life skills such as decision making, public speaking, leadership and working with others. 4-H members learn by doing with the guidance of older youth and adult volunteers, who teach projects ranging from aerospace and arts to veterinary science and computers. 4-H Community Clubs involve youth and adults in community service, camping and educational trips. In 2015, Meg and Judy continued to enhance communication with all in the 4-H program. The Clover Comments, 4-H newsletter, continues to be delivered monthly, providing timely information, as well as the opportunity for members and leaders to see information at least twice prior to an event. Monthly emails are sent to club leaders with updates and reminders. Meg and Judy also updated and addressed items (registration forms, program promotional materials, enrollment materials, and much more) that had not been revised or updated for many years. Meg did some targeted recruiting and orientation which increased the number of volunteers by 25% from the previous year. 4-H Leaders had the opportunity to participate in over 15 orientation, project leaders trainings, and club leadership meetings offered throughout the year. The 4-H program now has a much stronger foundation and will be able build move forward focusing on the big picture of youth development. In 2015, 16 Community Clubs involved 505 youth in grades 5K - 13 as members of the 4-H program and 119 adults as certified 4-H Project and 4-H Club volunteers. Each volunteer averages 100 hours per year. At a rate of $20.25 per hour, Sauk County 4-H adult volunteer leaders have contributed $240,975 worth of services to Sauk County in 2015.

Community Youth Development Programs

In addition to the Community Club 4-H program, the 4-H Youth Development Agent also taught 800 third grade students in conjunction with the Sauk County Rural Safety Days, and 400 sixth and seventh graders at two (3) youth conservation days in conjunction with local school districts.

Family Living

Parenting

Susan Nagelkerk, Family Living Educator, taught:

Y Parenting classes for court-ordered parenting education

Ÿ One-on-one parenting

Child Care Provider Trainings

The classes provide required continuing education hours for their state license. Sauk County has a high percentage of both parents with children in the workforce, which emphasizes the critical need for high quality child care options. The Civility Code was taught three times in Sauk County, benefiting approximately 390 Sauk County children.

Trainings for Children

Y Cowonomics in Baraboo - 15 hours of teaching

Jail Study Grant

Creation of a collaboration with area hospitals and Sauk County Public Health-Sauk

County Health and Wellness Collaboration. The group was formed to provide education and inspire action on health issues meant to improve the health of Sauk County citizens. The topic of concern was that Sauk had been deemed a "Health Professional Deficient" county. Now it looks promising to get a resident in 2016 or 2017, a 3rd or 4th year student for 9 months and we will have a psychiatrist for oversight.

Summer Lunch Bunch

There were 1,185 contacts with students through the Summer Lunch Bunch program providing lunches, nutrition education and activities about balancing food with physical activity. An intern from Sauk County UW Extension also provided weekly activities for children. Over the past four years, this program has served an average of 1200 lunches per summer to children who are eligible for free or reduced lunches in Wisconsin Dells School District as a way to counter the high percentage rate of food insecurity found initially in Wisconsin Dells School District survey in 2005 (Rate = 42%) and which has increased by evidence of increased free and reduced lunch rates (Fall 2010 = 54%).

Art in the Park

This was the third year for Art in the Park in Wisconsin Dells. With backing and funding from the Wisconsin Dells Art Association, a local retired art teacher did art projects over the course of three weeks at three different locations with children who attended Summer Lunch Bunch.

Wisconsin Nutrition Education Program (WNEP)

The goal of WNEP is to provide educational programs to increase the likelihood that food stamp participants and persons eligible for food stamps will make healthy food choices within a limited budget and choose active lifestyles consistent with the current Dietary Guidelines for Americans. A Nutrition Educator was present in the UW-Extension Office January through September, 2015. There were 903 Sauk County residents that participated in nutrition lessons at food pantries, elementary schools, and summer youth programs. Educational events resulted in 2,543 direct teaching contacts.

Indirect education was provided through quarterly newsletters, take-home family materials following lessons with youth, and the educational bulletin board at the Baraboo Food Pantry. Danielle Sander, WNEP Coordinator, worked on refilling the Nutrition Educator position with a new employee starting February 1, 2016.

Horticulture Education

The Sauk County Master Gardeners Association provided horticulture education to area residents through a variety of activities and the Horticulture Educator submitted gardening columns related to the time of the year to all Sauk County newspapers and other media outlets. SCMGA also helped coordinate a joint project with Sauk County HCE for a day-long gardening conference in March entitled, "Get Ready...Get Set...Garden!". This conference, open to the public, had twelve sessions with each speaker covering a different area of gardening. We were also active at area events such as assisting with judging at the Sauk County Fair and a display table at the Sauk County Dairy Breakfast to promote the Master Gardeners program in the county.

Sauk County Master Gardener volunteers thought something should be done to restore a priceless piece of history near Reedsburg; the area with log cabins, a church, school and museum owned by the Reedsburg Area Historical Society. The area was badly neglected a no one seemed to care, therefore, the SCMGA, after long negotiations, decided to brighten up the cabins with plantings from turn-of-the-century. Since our work on the gardens started, members of the Reedsburg Historical Society have started to take more interest in the project and are now restoring and repairing the buildings.

Master Gardeners and the Baraboo Public Library have started a seed savers library. This will work the same as borrowing a book. People can come in for free seeds and replace them after harvest. Six seminars on how to save seeds are now being held at the library.

Sauk County UW Extension Office: Handled 14,703 telephone calls and approximately 3,120 walk-in requests for assistance. The Sauk County UW-Extension web site attracted approximately 300 visits per week in 2015.
